CONTROLLING HER TEMPER. The husband of a lady of fiery temper says that before their marriage he was warned of her fiery disposition, and to test the accuracy of the information, one evening, as he sat next to her at dinner, he managed cleverly to jog the servant's elbow, as a plate of mock turtle soup was offered her, which of course was upset over the young lady's white dress of tulle lace. No complaint, nor even a frown, being evinced, the delighted suitor concluded that what be had heard was a mistake, and the marriage took place; but soon the lady's real character displayed itself, as is always the case after marriage, but never before, and his wife like a human Stromboli, was subject to fiery eruptions every ten minutes upon an average. "How is it, my dear," said the happy busband, "that having such a bad temper, you stood the ordeal by soup so well?" "Why," answered the lady, "I may have appeared indifferent at the time: but, good heavens! you should have only gone into my room a little while afterwards, and seen the marks of my teeth on the bed post."

THE VALUE OF A GOOD BOOK.

The shilling Testament, purchased in New Orleans previous to the Mexican war, not only saved the life of the possessor, but was the means of saving his soul. It was in this way. A young Illinois girl purchased a small testament for four dozen eggs at three cents per dosen. When her brother was about to start for Mexico, as a volunteer, she put it into his vest pocket. There it remained, wrapped in the same paper and same pocket, until the battle of Buena Vista, when the wearer received a wound through the Testament, which broke the force of the bullet, which lodged in his breast, and sent him to the hospital .-There he read his book; and the last time I saw him, he was in an Illinois college, preparing for the pulpit, or rather for a missionary field in the Methodist church.
